PRSSA Hosts the 7th Annual Haunted Trail on Terror Lake

Carbondale, IL, October 19, 2009- Public Relations Student Society of America, Southern Illinois University Carbondale's most outstanding RSO, is hosting its seventh annual haunted trail. Each year more and more people scurry their way over to Thompson Lake to experience the scariest trail in Carbondale, leaving with nothing but chills.

Terror Lake is the theme of the trail this Halloween. The haunted trail will take place Friday, October 30th and Saturday, October 31st. It will be located on Thompson Lake right next to the Thompson Point dorms on the SIU campus. The trail will start at the boat docks and end at the beach house. Entrance fee is three dollars for children and five dollars for adults. The kid friendly trail will be from 6:00-7:00 p.m. The real horror will take place from 7:00-10:00 p.m., so bring an extra pair of pants in case you cannot handle the Halloween madness.

Southern Illinois is known for its paranormal activity after troops passed through in the Civil War. Terror stories are heard all around Carbondale from ancient history on and off campus. Terror Lake is just another chapter in the haunted Southern Illinois experience. Come on out and enjoy the frightful night with family and friends. This is not an experience you can miss out on so come join us Halloween weekend and cringe through the haunted trails of Terror Lake. Enter if you dare! It is a dare worth taking!
